

Tuesday, March 14th

A Modest Proposal

3/15	Learning Objectives Essential Question: How can literature teach about the conflicts of humanity SWBAT recall the vocabulary words' definition, synonym, antonym, and use the words in an original sentence. SWBAT explain the function of satire SWBAT read Swift's A Modest Proposal and understand how he uses satire to his benefit. SWBAT create a satire of their own in order to show mastery of the concept.	BellRinger: 5 Minutes to study Take Vocab Quiz #6 If you finish the quiz early, correct the following paragraphs: M.U.G. #13 it was overcast and drizzly we decided not to go to hampton beach. Dr. Boxberger a professor who tolerated no interruptions during his lectures turned beat red as the cell phone in his jacket pocket begins to ring. M.U.G. #14 Isabella washed the piles of dirty dishes, while Katherine vacuumed the filthy rug, they try to complete a months worth of cleaning in just one hour's time. Wrestling looks like play it teaches lion cubs important survival skills.	Activity: 1. Learning about Satire Watch: "Running with Knives" as an example of satire before reading A Modest Proposal.] 2. Read Jonathan Swift's A Modest Proposal Reading out loud around the room while answering the guided reading questions below Guided Reading Questions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. What does Swift hope to accomplish with his satire? 2. What tone is the speaker using in the story? 3. Why does Swift use statistics in his story? (What method of argument does this adhere to?) 4. What form of power does the rich possess in the story? 5. What form of power does the poor possess in the story? 6. How are people manipulating their power in A Modest Proposal? 3. Homework: Show what you learned Find a current issue in the world which you are passionate about and write your own satire which brings attention to the change you want to make. Guidelines: MLA 1-2 Pages Stick to school appropriate topics	Homework: Immediate: Write your own 1-page satire about a current issue in society. (Due Monday on Schoology) (RS- 2, 9) Long Term: Film Pitch Project: Due April 8th
------	--	--	---	---